Travel from Seattle-Tacoma Airport

One way to get in from the airport is to take the Shuttle Express. Cross the pedestrian bridge from the main terminal to the parking garage and go down one level (to Level 3).

Another good (and much less expensive) approach is to take the Metro bus. Take the Route 194 express to downtown Seattle, fare $2.25 peak, $1.50 otherwise. Be sure to get a transfer. You can reach the stop by going to the sidewalk outside of baggage claim on the lower level, turn right, and walk to end of terminal. From 5AM to 7:00PM the bus goes into the tunnel under downtown. Get off at any station and catch the next Route 71, 72, or 73 bus to the University District. The route through the University District is shown by the red line on the map. This is most convenient for the hotels shown with the "*" below. If you arrive outside tunnel hours, get off at 4th and Pike downtown:

Walk down to 3rd and Pine, and locate a stop signed for Routes 71, 72, or 73. Take any of these to the University District:

The route through the University District is the same for tunnel versus surface operation.

Hotels

There are six hotels in the University District. The Hotel Deca is a couple of blocks from campus, and is the most expensive but the nicest. The College Inn is a little more like a European style bed and breakfast, and has been the most popular with our student visitors. I put the other four roughly in order of quality, although all are about equal except the Travelodge, which is a little more economy. All are within walking distance of campus (numbers labeled on map).
